Internship Opportunity with Education Department at Jefferson Patterson Park and Museum, St. Leonard, MD

Do you enjoy working in a beautiful outdoor setting? Do you enjoy sharing new things you've learned with others? Does educating young students about history, archaeology, and human interaction with the environment sound interesting to you? If so, being a Museum Educator Intern at Jefferson Patterson Park and Museum might be the job for you. Read on for details.

The Education Department at Jefferson Patterson Park and Museum (JPPM) is seeking a creative, enthusiastic, and organized individual committed to outdoor education. Duties include working with children of all ages in summer camps and educational programs, helping with maintenance of the Woodland Indian Village, and assisting the Education staff with other duties. The summer intern will work under the supervision of the Director of Education.

Eligibility Requirements

The successful candidate will have experience working with children in an educational setting, as well as familiarity working outdoors and with hand tools. Applicants must have a high school diploma, a GED, or be a graduate by the start of the job. Students currently enrolled in, or who have recently graduated from, an undergraduate program in the following areas are preferred: outdoor/environmental education, history, museum studies, historic preservation, anthropology, archaeology, natural sciences, theater, or related fields.

Application Process

An application should consist of a cover letter and resume. These should include a phone number where you can be reached, as well as an email address. Please include contact information for two references.

Applications are due March 15, 2023. Email Debra.rantanen@maryland.gov with any questions about the position, or to submit your application. Please use the Subject heading: Education
